

INNOVATIVE APPROACH TO SUCCESSFUL WORKFORCE PREPARATION

...and we have the DATA to back it up!

Our work readiness skills training is for unemployed, underemployed, incumbent, and newly entering job seekers. It provides a unique, collaborative approach that partners small businesses with local community anchor institutions, employers, and municipal workforce development agencies.

This evidence-based model reflects a creative approach to support, encourage and uplift job-seeking community members through industry-specific skill-building and work readiness preparation.

Our approach provides easily accessible, relatable workforce preparation opportunities in a non-intimidating, community-based setting. We track participant progress and measure outcomes.

RESULTS

Statistically significant pre- and post-test participant gains

Average score increases of 16-21% on training modules

More than 95% of participants reported feeling better prepared for employment testing as a direct result of participating in our program

Developed INNOVATIVE model for effective workforce preparation training